Apprenticeship Development Manager

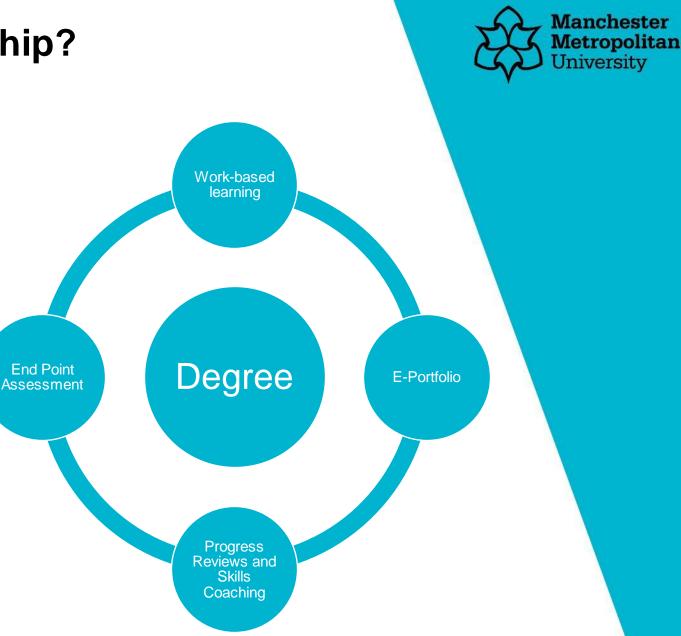

Have you any experience of being a manager or mentor for an apprentice?

Can you describe in one word how you feel about managing or mentoring a degree apprentice?

What would you like to get from the session today?

What is a Degree Apprenticeship?

- A job with training, like any other apprenticeship
- Training delivered via a combination of university study and work-based learning
- Equips apprentices with the Knowledge, Skills and Behaviours required for a particular role (Standard)
- Defined by groups of employers
- Delivery designed to align with full-time work
- Allowance to engage with learning during working hours

Apprenticeship Standard

As a line manager, it is crucial that you are aware of the knowledge, skills and behaviours within the apprenticeship standard and support your apprentice to develop in these areas.

This can involve creating opportunities for them to grow in these areas or helping them to recognise what they are doing in the workplace correlates to a knowledge, skills or behaviour.

Off the Job Training (OTJ)

In order to achieve a Degree Apprenticeship the apprentice must complete and record Off The Job training.

Off-the-job training means undertaking a learning activity which is different from what they do during their normal role.

For the activity to be classed as off the job training, you will need to develop skills or learn something new.

The activity needs to be specifically linked to the knowledge, skills and behaviours outlined in the apprenticeship standard.

Off the Job Training (OTJ)

- Apprentices must be given opportunity to carry out OTJ activity for approximately 6 hours a week.
- It can be delivered flexibly, for example, as a part of each day, one day per week, one week out of five or as block release.
- It needs to take place within their normal working hours.
- Courses completed prior to enrolment will not count as OTJ.

What counts as OTJ?

What counts as OTJ?

Off-the-job development includes:

- University attendance and e-learning
- Assignment development and writeup (in work time)
- Work-based projects
- Shadowing, mentoring and development tasks (this may relate to a skill you need to develop)
- Study skills workshops/webinars
- Work and industry visits
- Training courses and competitions
- Practical training which involves new learning
- Employer induction programme (if it is new learning)
- Reflections on learning
- Reading (related to the standard)
- Development that supports the STANDARD

It does not include:

- Time spent on the initial assessment and on onboarding activities
- Progress reviews
- EPA assessments
- Training outside the apprentice's normal working hours, unless the apprentice is paid for these additional hours or is given time off in lieu
- Training to acquire knowledge, skills and behaviours that are not required by the apprenticeship standard

E-Portfolio (PICSWeb)

All Degree Apprenticeship programmes at Manchester Metropolitan University make use of an E-Portfolio hosted on PICSWebPortfolio (PWP)

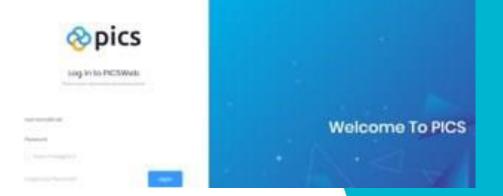

On PWP you can view:

- Portfolio progress
- Review Skills Scans
- Upload and check evidence

Projects and Portfolios

Nico Crutwell-Jones & Tom Garner Skills Coaches

Portfolio – Workplace evidence

What is it? A portfolio of evidence demonstrating competency against the Knowledge, Skills and Behaviours

Why is it needed? The portfolio is assessed during the End-Point Assessment to complete the degree apprenticeship and achieved Chartered Manager status

What does it include? Around 15 to 20 pieces of evidence including academic assignments, evidence from the workplace and witness testimonies. Completion of Reflection on Evidence forms.

When is it completed? Apprentices should collect evidence throughout the apprenticeship, logging this their SKILLS TRACKER (with support from their Skills Coach) and employer - EXPOSURE- EXPERIENCE - EVIDENCE.

Project

A significant workplace project undertaken in the final year based on a strategic business need.

Important element of the degree and the apprenticeship: forms part of the End-Point Assessment

Live project: signed off by the employer and managed by the apprentice across a significant period of time

- •Unprecedented/significant change in the business
- •Introduction of a new product or service
- •Quality assurance process to bring about an improvement
- •Cost reduction to be realised across multiple areas of a business

Synoptic: should allow the apprentice to demonstrate a range of skills from across the apprenticeship standard (e.g. finance, communication)

Consider appointing a project sponsor who can help with access to necessary data and information and encourage organisational buy-in

Project: Improving delivery performance through training in a franchise fast food outlet

Aims: Improve refund metrics in a major fast-food outlet by reducing refunds on delivery services from over 3% to under 2% of sales.

Actions taken: Implementation of standardised training tools included a training checklist, a station layout guide, and a training masterclass to improve staff handling of delivery procedures to increase efficiency and raise customer satisfaction levels.

Impact:

- The project was successful in its aim of reducing refunds on sales of delivery items to less than 2% of sales.
- Standardisation of training led to increased motivation and better working relationships between staff members and teams.
- Higher customer satisfaction and increase in delivery and drive-thru orders.

Project: Embedding Employee Learning and Development in a franchise fast food outlet

Aims:

- To develop and promote five crew members to crew trainers.
- To implement and develop a training journey for newly hired crew members.
- To create and use a communications system to follow up on training with all levels of the team.

Actions taken:

- Monthly meetings were set up with each level of the team and allowed for a twoway process of communication.
- A communication board was set up and utilised, allowing all levels of staff to assess their own opportunities for training as well as providing guidance on focus areas to crew trainers.

Impact:

- Training percentage of new hires increased by 7%.
- Empowerment of crew trainers and more efficient operations within the outlet.
- Rise in employee satisfaction of 4%.
- Rise in customer satisfaction of 20%.
